Course overview

The seminar discusses recent research in the area of analytical accounting research as well as own research projects of participating doctoral students.

Course objectives

Understanding and doing cutting edge research in accounting

Course prerequisites

Business Administration for Research Students: Theory I and II recommended.

Exams and Grading

Each participating doctoral student has to present a summary of an assigned research paper. The grading will be based on the quality of a presentation including the quality of the presentation slides as well as in the individual contributions to the class discussion.

We expect class attendance during the complete seminar. Students who miss part of the class without approval by the course organizers will receive an insufficient grade.

Course content

The seminar is organized in three parts:

- Part I (Day 1): Seminar instructors provide a comprehensive presentation of selected research topics in the area of analytical accounting research
- Part II (Day 2): Students present summaries of research papers related to the topics covered in part I
- Part III (Day 2): Students present their own research projects

The current topic list will be made available on the course web page (OLAT) no later than April 30.

Course material

The seminar literature and other course materials will be made available on the course website (OLAT) no later than April 30.

WWF Statutory Course Policies

According to WWF study regulations, all exam dates are final as published in the VVZ (VVZ – Vorlesungsverzeichnis). This means that the final exam date and time are not negotiable. It will not be possible to take any exams on different dates. Check your class schedule for possible exam conflicts at the beginning of the semester at your own responsibility.

Academic dishonesty in any form will not be tolerated. Anyone caught cheating or engaging in unethical behavior will be reported to the Dean's office according to the guidelines on academic dishonesty set forth by the University of Zurich.

Notes

- Don't forget to officially register yourself using the registration tool of the University of Zurich.
- The information in this syllabus supports the official information in the electronic university registration tool. In cases of doubt, the official information at the VVZ is decisive.
